Hold Three Youths For Stealing Car

Local Officers Arrest Them On Suspicion, Which Later Proves Well-Founded—All Are from Anderson, S. C.

Three self-confessed automobile thieves, all youths ranging around 20 years of age, were arrested here this morning by Patrolmen Floyd G. Towell and Foster T. Harris. The boys after giving fictitious names, finally gave their names as Robert A. Pace, Charles Dutton and Edgar Cochran, and after a grilling examination by the police confessed to stealing the Ford touring car in which they were riding in Anderson, S. C. They are now in jail pending notification of the authorities in Anderson, which will be done some time today.

It was purely a matter of chance that Officers Towell and Harris had the alleged thieves. Both were riding down North Union street shortly after 1 o'clock on Tuesday morning when they saw a Ford car approaching them. Almost simultaneously both remarked that the boys looked suspicious. The Ford car was headed towards Main street and the officers were approaching it. After they had passed, Towell turned around and began to follow the car. The sooner he had the boys turned around when one of the boys turned and looking slightly nervous watched the pursuit of the officers instead of keeping out into Main street. The driver of the car turned down Spring street towards the canal. By the time the bridge was reached the policemen were close on the car. Evidently not familiar with the layout of the town, after crossing the bridge, the boys turned to the left and consequently were headed by the New Mill yards, whereas, if they had turned to the right their chances for a getaway would have been better as they would have come out into Main street.

Finally thinking they had a clear and smooth road, the youths put on all speed but were soon at the end of the drive way at the mill yards. Seeing they were trapped and all means of escape closed, the boys decided to make a dash for it. A few moments before the officers had them in clasp, Towell took one of the men with him on the motorcycle while Harris took care of the other two in the Ford. In this manner the prisoners were taken to the jail. After the boys had been taken to the jail, Harris, Pace driving the car was very nervous and the officers had to handle him several times about the reckless manner in which he was driving. Towell had no trouble in taking his prisoner to the courthouse on the motorcycle.

For several days the police station, the officers questioned the boys closely.

Ebon Kings Of Ivory Coast Hit Cay Paree With a Wifely Host

PARIS, July 9.—Two dozen colored Kings have come to Paris and Parisians, with their eyes for a love of the exotic, have thrilled at the spectacle.

Arrived in faultless fitting black blouses, top hats and with uniformly dark features, these dusky rulers of French possessions in Senegal, Dahomey, the Ivory and New Guinea Coast, the Maritania lined up on the platform this morning at the Gare de Lyon to be photographed. It is in fact the first time that the government brought them to see the sights or whether they are a sight to be seen, but their reception was official, with representatives of the Ministers of Colonies, Deputies and officers to meet them.

One huge African potentate, blissfully unconscious, carried, instead of a walking stick, a scabbard. It helped to explain why some children took refuge behind their mothers' skirts.

Members of the jungle chieftains were escorted by their wives, whom having from three to five, whom Parisians voted charming. Nearly all speak French fluently. One proudly announced he is a subscriber to a Paris paper, which he has read in the jungle for ten years.

Sees Danger Unless Strike Is Compromised

No material change is noted here in the strike situation, although it is reported that there has been a curbing of freight movement. One strike of shipmen as seen by a former railway man, is its later effect on the public in conjunction with the strike of bituminous coal miners. He expressed the view that unless some compromise or settlement is reached soon, the state of the rolling stock will be such that it will take months of strenuous work to restore the service to normal, with a consequential shortage of cars including coal cars, which will be needed to the fullest extent during the fall and winter.

Martinsville Road Work Held Up By Sandy Creek Bridge

Chairman A. D. Starling of the Chamber of Commerce good roads committee is hopeful that work can be started on the Martinsville road improvement in September. Mr. Starling has been watching developments closely and has repeatedly urged the state highway commission the necessity of hard surfacing some of the worst stretches before the winter comes. Today he received a letter from State Highway Commissioner Coleman stating that the present delay is on account of the Sandy Creek bridge on the river road. The Bureau of Public Roads, which gives its official sanction to plans prepared by the various states, before they can have the benefit of federal aid, has not yet given its permission for the road work to go forward. It seems that Uncle Sam is particularly particular in making federal aid available and acts only when every condition has been met. One of these conditions is that the Sandy Creek shall be spanned by a modern bridge and the plans have not yet been prepared for this.

Commissioner Coleman is having drawn up plans for the bridge with all speed and hoped to submit them to the Bureau of Public Roads within a few days. When these bridge plans have been officially approved then the federal road appropriation will be made and there will be nothing to hinder calling for bids.

The Sandy Creek bridge, it is explained, is not unsafe but the government feels that it should be constructed so as to be able to support traffic of any weight. This is a matter for the state to attend to and does not come under the supervision of the board of county supervisors.

There is a general demand and hope that good progress can be made before winter sets in and that some of the bad stretches of the road can be made good before the wet weather comes. Mr. Starling says he will endeavor to have the road started under Source's garage. It seems fairly evident that part of the road at least will be torn up about the time the tobacco season arrives and this will probably mean detours.

France Balks At Step Now to Meet Crisis In Germany

Mrs. Hooper First Senate Nominee

OSHKOSH, Wis., July 11.—Mrs. Ben C. Hooper, of Oshkosh, Wis., is the first woman in Wisconsin to receive the endorsement of a political party for nominee as United States senator. At the recent state Democratic conference she was unanimously chosen to represent the party at the September primaries. This means that she will oppose either U. S. Senator Robert M. LaFollette or Dr. W. A. Gafield, nominees of two different factions of the Republican party at the general election.

For the last fifteen years, Mrs. Hooper has been an ardent worker for woman suffrage. When women were given the right to vote, she was instrumental in organizing the Wisconsin League of Women Voters of which she has been president since its organization in 1919. She was a member of the National committee on Armament Reduction of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters and also was a member of the National American Women's Suffrage board.

Mrs. Hooper was born in Winnechuck county, Iowa, in 1865, and because of delicate health, never had an opportunity to attend public schools, receiving her education through training of a governess. She has been a resident of Wisconsin for the last thirty-five years.

Marriage, according to Mrs. Hooper, does not destroy woman's identity, and she is quoted as saying: "The time is coming when woman, in her tenacious ability to get what she after, will find a way of marrying and having a home and family without giving up her identity and independence."

Mrs. Hooper spends a great deal of her time in assisting her husband in a general merchandise establishment, and always finds time to take a fond interest in the care of her home. There is no greater admirer of former President Wilson than Mrs. Hooper, who believes that the ideals he brought before the people of America while president, will live forever in the history of the United States.

During the World War Mrs. Hooper was active in Wisconsin, spending a great deal of her time as head of the Liberty Loan drive in Oshkosh and working with the Council of Defense. She is an ardent believer in world peace and believes that her life's work will have an accounting with the world. She can help bring about an understanding among the nations of the world.

Mrs. Hooper always has urged women to take an active part in politics, saying it was the home that was affected first of all by such measures as taxation, and is quoted as saying: "Advancing taxes affect the home first of all, because it is the only place where the business man dares economize."

This is the first time that Mrs. Hooper has ever taken part in party politics though actively connected with many state movements.

Wife's Beach Vigil For Hero Is Ended

NEW YORK, July 10.—A wife's vigil for her husband on the beach at Princess Bay ended yesterday when the body of Lorent, an insurance broker, of No. 35 West 65th street, was ashore at the foot of Princess Bay Road, Staten Island.

With the finding of the body there came to light a story of heroism that cost Lorent his life. He drowned from exhaustion in swimming for Miss Nitzl Slemore, of No. 25 West 65th street on the fourth of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorent and Miss Slemore went to the beach to celebrate the day. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon Miss Slemore, who cannot swim, went in bathing. Lorent, an expert swimmer, followed and swam far past her. Miss Slemore waded until she was beyond her depth. Mrs. Lorent saw her go down. She called to her husband.

Lorent swam back full speed to the spot where Miss Slemore was floating down for the second time. He was exhausted when he reached the spot, but succeeded in pushing Miss Slemore into shallow water, where she was rescued by Frank Brissman, a 16-year-old schoolboy, of Princess Bay. Lorent tried to swim to shore, but sank and drowned within view of his wife and hundreds of others on shore. Mrs. Lorent became hysterical and had to be taken to the Richmond County Memorial hospital with Miss Slemore. She remained there but a short time. Each morning since she has gone down to the beach to keep a vigil in the hope of finding her husband's body. Yesterday, only 10 minutes before she arrived for her watch, the body floated ashore. She had it removed to her home.

Former German Chancellor Here, Sees Quick End to New Coup

NEW YORK, July 10.—The former Imperial German Chancellor, Prince Otto von Bismarck, who had office for three and a half months under Kaiser Wilhelm in 1917, arrived at the Hotel Astor yesterday as a privileged German citizen on his way from Berlin to Germany.

He is the president of the German Christian Student Society, an organization similar to the Y. M. C. A. As a delegate from Germany for this society he has been attending an international student conference which lasted five weeks at Pocking.

"I do not think the interior troubles will be so great in Germany as some of your papers predict," he declared. "I think the results of the assassination of Rathenau and the attack on Hindenburg will be the result of the Kapp 'Putsch' in 1920. There will be fighting, sympathetic and political strikes, rioting and such consequences as are now being reported, but I do not believe there will be a revolution."

As to the strength of the monarchist parties and the fidelity of the troops to the present German government, he replied: "Some of the officers are of course from the old regime. But I am sure I was with forty years under the old regime. If you ask me am I a monarchist, a republican or a democrat, then I say for that period in which we are living there can be but one answer."

"But you must support the government. And to every one of my friends who might make an attack against the democratic government I would say: 'You are not a friend of your country.'"

There is only a small group that is really reactionary. They say it would be best for Germany to expel the government with guns. These are the first line young fellows, some students, some former officers of the Kaiser's army whom you have heard—the landlords and their sons. It is a small force, but it is dangerous.

"In years from now, perhaps," he continued, "the German people may discuss in order of priority which is better for German—a monarchy or a republic. And everybody may say it is a monarchy. If reconstructed—a monarchy with better guarantees than before—understand me."

But do not attempt to understand me," he hastened to add. "I am not attempting to make a reconstruction."

"Yet there is a great fraction of

The German people who are in "their country" monarchist and who are not democrats are not the right kind of government for Germany. They are very quiet and clever and they wait and watch he whtngs go. The working of the government may lead one day again to monarchist government. At the moment, Dr. Michaelis left Germany and news in the Far East being meagre, he explained, he is unacquainted with the details of the present situation in Germany. He declared emphatically, however, that Germany needs more official experience, that Germany cannot possibly pay the immense reparations sums which are still being demanded.

Moreover, he does not believe France will be permitted to "English" her clerical bureaucracy and further German territory after exacting reparations payments to a point where the German mark becomes utterly worthless.

He believes that the reduction of taxes will be accepted as necessary and hopes it will take place without delay at a world economic conference in which the United States will take part and in which both Germany and Russia will be as members.

Before the war, for seven years Under Secretary of State in the Ministry of Finance," said Dr. Michaelis, "and then I was during the war food controller and then chancellor and I think I really know what Germany can pay."

"In France there is such hatred against Germany that they do not see the simple truth in the economic situation. If Germany is to pay such immense sums the mark must be fixed at further levels of payment until Germany quickly becomes unable to pay anything. Then the bankruptcy of France may result from demanding too much."

"No," he said in answer to a question, "I do not think that England and America would then permit France to occupy the Ruhr. Besides it would be an awful danger for peace. I France occupies further districts of Germany then the French will be in a position to feel and hatred that they could not be kept in hand. I do not know what would happen. We would be involved in a new war—a futile war without guns or supplies."

"I do not believe that will happen," he added. "I am an optimist—although I am 65 years old."

Dr. Wu's Views On Recognition

CANTON, South China, June 4.—The former Chinese Minister at Washington, Wu-Ting-fang, received today the correspondent of the Associated Press and set forth the reasons why he believed the powers should recognize South China. He presented the cause of the Chinese republic in this regard during a long interview in which he touched upon the vital differences between Yuan Yü Sen and Chen Chung-ming, and dwelt upon China's financial difficulties.

Dr. Wu, who is now the civil governor of Kwangtung province under the Southern government, proceeded to ask him if he was in Canton office. He answered every question asked him with great care, and was interested in seeing that his answer was correctly transcribed.

"For nearly five years South China has been practically independent, and for some time past has been recognized as existing as the Republic of China," Dr. Wu said. "During all this time we have been running our government without assistance from the outside world, and the outside world is not going to help us until we gain some form of recognition."

"What is going to build up a modern government without being able to contract loans and without being able to make treaties? In other words, without recognition by the other governments in the world? We are so handicapped that we are almost at our wits' end. We are almost lost and wait, we will be waiting until doomday. We must force the powers to recognize us. As soon as they do this civil war will stop, and the people of Kwangtung and South China will set up a model government."

"I present we are in reality a defective government," Dr. Wu continued. "For months this government has been functioning perfectly. During all this time we have been dealing with other governments, although unofficially. I am addressed as 'some one' by the foreign officials of other governments in this part of China. We are constantly dealing, unofficially, with consular and other officials of foreign countries as though we were a permanent government. After the overthrow of the Manchú dynasty the newly established government existed for only 13 months before it

In the Police Court

Most of the time in the mayor's court this morning was taken up in the trial of Lewis Robertson, colored, charged with operating a disorderly and ill-governed house, but the mayor reserved his decision in the case until July 25th, and ordered officers in the morning to keep a close watch on Lewis' house on Newton street. Many officers testified as to the alleged ill-government of Lewis' house and the misconduct therein. Warrants against three white men for disorderly conduct in the place recently were dismissed. They were used as witnesses in the case. Young colored men paid $8.44 for having wrong tag on his car.

An alleged assault made by Ben Goldberg on Julian Brown was heard, but the mayor announced that he would "consider the case." Goldberg is said to have slapped the youth because the boys had been late for school. The boys then laid their first case on him and tried to operate a slot machine with him. Goldberg has an interest in the machines.

The case of Fannie Dixon, charged with an assault on Sallie Fawlin, was dismissed after the evidence failed to show that either was more responsible than the other. Both were negroes and were said to have engaged in a fight.

Gold Discovered Near Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 11.—Gold has been discovered near Washington.

The first bit of ore from a vein of quartz just opened on the Virginia side of the Potomac by the Virginia Gold Mining and Milling Corporation was struck out at 9 o'clock this morning by Senator William H. King, of Utah, who, with other Western Senators are expected as guests of the company at the formal opening of its mine today.

The company has been prospecting on its 32 acres of land at B. H. Neck Run, four miles above Cabin John, for the past two months. Later it has removed gold from the site at the rate of $100 a day. The dredge mining methods the little targets were traced back to the mother lode, and the latter has been located.

The story of the mine dates back thirty-five years to the time when George W. Kirk, operated a gold mine near Maryland. His Maryland associate, George E. Kirk, president of the closed corporation which owns the present mine, began investigating the gold proposition here several years ago. He acquired title to the land from a Chicago trust company, which owned the mine, and now is ready to start operations on a large scale.

Closely associated with Kirk has been the former Senator A. B. Lewis, of Utah, a prominent mining man, and J. C. Landrau, another mining man.

Dope-Carrying Pigeons Sold To Kansas City Drug Addicts

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 10.—Police have peeped into a new quarter of "The Land of Dreams"—the purple shawed land, where outcasts of fortune are making a business in the dope needle and poppy pipe.

There L. M. Whistler and W. D. Weaver, city detectives, assert they found Allen Maier operating the "newest wrinkle" in the sinister traffic of "dear old time"—the sale of "dope" or "cartered" pigeons.

Maier's arrest is but one link in a chain of evidence; the two detectives heading the police Narcotic Squad, are working in their efforts to reach the heart of the "dope ring," known to the underworld as "the bird."

Maier's scheme, as explained by the detectives, has baffled authorities for many months.

Maier posted a sign at the Harrison street address, it read:

"Pigeons for sale."

"We noticed a number of known drug addicts who congregated about the corner," the detectives said. "They aroused our suspicion. We investigated."

"Inside we found Maier and 12 pigeons. These, he said, were for sale."

"We examined the birds. Each was found, in its box of cocaine, morphine or heroin fastened beneath one of its wings."

"The drug user would go into Maier's place to purchase a 'shot.' Maier would sell him a pigeon. The addict would leave, his pigeon being new to him."

"Once at his home, the addict would release the pigeon, which would fly back to Maier's place, to be fixed for another sale, and another flight."

"The ending of the 12 carrier pigeons," the detectives believe they are on the trail of the route over which much of the "dope" being sold in Kansas City reaches the peddlers.

Whistler and Weaver believe Maier has confederates in some distant city, probably along the Mexican border. There, they believe, the pigeons are fitted up with a "dope" package and released.

A carrier pigeon will travel hundreds of miles to its home.

UNITED STATES IS ON ROAD TO INDUSTRIAL PROSPERITY

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The United States is "striving vigorously toward industrial prosperity," according to the economic summary for the month of June, issued yesterday by the United States employment service of the department of labor.

Employment is increasing, but very gradually despite unsettled conditions in the coal fields and cotton textile industry and the railroad controversies.

Of the 55 leading cities of the country, 52 reported increased employment, while 13 reported decreased employment during June.

A noteworthy feature of the survey, the department said, was that all industries indicated an increase in employment. In these three industries it was said the decrease was largely due to seasonal layoffs.

Director-General Jones, of the employment service, declared the "outlook is bright and entirely favorable way toward a period of industrial prosperity in which it is possible that labor supply will not equal the demand." A note of optimism was added, however, particularly over industry in every section of the country.

The survey indicated, according to M. Jones, that building activities were developing so that a shortage of skilled labor and craftsmen was becoming apparent in many sections of the country.

The hot weather was reported to have hastened wheat cutting in Kansas and Nebraska, which "coupled with transportation difficulties, have caused a temporary shortage in harvest fields of the Middle West."

Many difficulties, the department further stated, beset the handling of the cotton crop in harvest season in the big wheat belt in Texas, Oklahoma, North Dakota and South Dakota. The advance of cutting dates, occasioned by ripening of wheat through excessive heat, shortage of men, and many other obstacles, it was said, had made the task one of the most difficult in its history.

New Cordial Called "Anti-Ferment," Originated By a Druggist, and Recommended by Physicians, Neutralizes Acid Condition of Stomach, Prevents Fermentation and Brings Instant Relief.

Indigestion and its attendant ills, such as dyspepsia, heartburn, sour stomach, griping pains, dysentery, diarrhoea, colic, cholera morbus, chronic constipation, gas, etc., and even nervous headaches are now directly traceable to disorders in the digestive organs.

The food sours before it is fully digested, thus putting into solution toxic poisons that are absorbed into the system, irritating the intestines and setting up inflammation. To avoid this, you simply have to prevent fermentation by using Anti-Ferment.

Anti-Ferment neutralizes the acid condition of the stomach, cleanses and sweetens the bowels, soothes and heals the inflamed intestines and increases the flow of gastric juices, giving quick and certain relief. Get a bottle of Anti-Ferment from your druggist with a guarantee of satisfactory results or money returned. ## Pet Boy Can Talk And Eat With Ease

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Despite a fractured spine, Henry Flisher, thirteen, of No. 541 East 25th street, is able to eat and talk freely as he lies in bed in the Staten Island Hospital. Dr. H. J. Huber, who is attending him, says he is of strong physique and even thinks he may be able to come through an operation.

Flisher had been spending the weekend in the bungalow colony at South Beach, Staten Island. Yesterday he erected a small raft off shore to dive from. There was only one foot of water. When he jumped, he struck his head on a sandy shore. Flisher attempted to swim, but he had struck bottom and he became unconscious. An X-ray examination revealed the fractured spine. Companions rescued him and hurried him to the hospital.

Soon after arriving there Flisher regained consciousness. Attendants were amazed to discover that he could talk and eat. He says he suffers little pain.

Fifteen Year Old's Case Is Pathetic

HARRISBURG, July 10.—Confronted with the situation of capture by Mayor J. W. Morrison on a charge of fighting or of leaving Harrisburg, James Riddle, 15 years old, chose the latter Saturday morning and now is in a far worse predicament than when he was arrested. The county jail awaiting hearing on the charges of house breaking and theft of an automobile, both committed in his effort to leave the city.

Early in the morning, the lad left Harrisburg and had walked about a mile when a passing motorist offered him a ride. He rode for five miles when the driver reached his destination parked the car at the side of the road and went to a nearby field to inspect a threshing operation. As soon as he was out of sight, the lad returned to the car, drove it back through Harrisburg and on up to Valley Pike as far as Middletown where he was forced to abandon the machine on account of motor trouble.

Riddle then "eat" his way back to Harrisburg, arriving at Larzer Spring eight miles from here about dinner time. Seeking something to eat, he entered the home of M. E. Riddle, who helped himself to some fried chicken, took a number of small articles and was on his way once more when he was apprehended by five or six men and held for the arrival of the sheriff who bronched him to jail.

Financial State Of Germany In Desperate Way

PARIS, July 10.—(By The Associated Press)—The two representatives of the German government, Dr. Brücker, chairman of the German war debts commission, and Herr Schroeder, under-secretary of finance, during the course of a three hours conference this afternoon informed M. Dabois, president of the financial commission, that the financial situation of Germany had reached such a desperate state that cash payments of the indemnity would soon become impossible.

While the Germans did not formally request a moratorium, they made it plain to M. Dabois, and later to each of the members of the commission, that Germany felt such relief would be the only thing out of their difficulties.

M. Dabois and the others of the commission listened to the German representatives and asked a number of questions. They then adjourned until a later date, after the commission has formally received Germany's request and given it full consideration. The commission will meet tomorrow afternoon to discuss the new offer. It is probable that Dr. Brücker will have further informal conversations with the members. Herr Schroeder has asked Berlin for its situation, and may return to Germany tomorrow.

It is believed that the Germans do not seem to know just what was wanted, but among the tentative proposals they had with them was one calling for payment of the remaining cash installments this year by means of a loan, provided a moratorium of at least two years was granted. Without a moratorium a loan could not be raised, the Germans explained.

The rail strike has not reached the tie stage, but President Harding is trying to solve it.

American Charity Conquers Russian Famine With United States Government Gift of Corn and Seed Grain; Medical Aid Restores Many

Lower view: Peasants Rescued from Death

These photographs give an idea of how American charity is conquering the famine in Russia—one of the most devastating in history. Note what one meal a day will do for a child. Needy and undernourished children are given one warm meal daily; adults are given a ration of one pound of American corn, purchased under the $20,000,000 Congressional appropriation, and now being distributed through the length and breadth of the famine zone; and children who have been deserted by their parents in the migrations from the rural districts during the height of the famine are picked up, and nursed back to health and strength.

Colonel Haskell, who was appointed by Herbert Hoover to direct the American Relief Administration's work in Russia, has just returned to Moscow after an extended inspection trip throughout the entire famine district. He reports that everywhere supplies are being shipped and delivered with machine-like precision. Even in these places which have been extremely hard hit, he states, and where there is still some suffering, the programs being carried out by the American Relief Administration are proving adequate, and should eradicate the worst phases of suffering in the space of a month or six weeks.

At the present time more than 3,000,000 children and 5,000,000 adults are being fed daily.

Labor Conditions Of Nation Show An Improvement

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
WASHINGTON, July 10.—In the most optimistic statement it has issued in over a year concerning labor employment conditions in the U. S. Employment Service of the Labor Department asserts that the nation is striking vigorously towards industrial prosperity, employment increasing throughout the country to the extent of 2.5 per cent. during June.

This increase in employment during June over May is remarkable for the reason that it is made despite the unsettled conditions caused by the coal, cotton textile and railroad strikes, the U. S. Employment Bureau states in its report issued today following its survey of the labor employment field during the month and 4 June 20th.

General industrial conditions throughout Virginia continue to show improvement, the report states, with practically all the industrial centers of the State reporting an increased number of men and women at work.

Of the 45 leading industrial centers of the United States 32 report an "actual" increased employment with the other 13 reporting reduction in employment.

In June approximately 119,328 persons were required to work in Virginia, the industrial survey shows. It is estimated that not more than 20,000 employees were furnished, most of the four seasonal changes.

This survey comprises employment conditions in every line of trade and industry, in all parts of the country, including 1428 concerns usually employing 501 or more, which added 33,332 workers.

Another noteworthy feature of the report issued today is that all industries but the stone, clay and glass products show an increase in employment, and that the decreased employment in these lines is largely due to the seasonal lay-off in some centers in June, which was materially shortened as contrasted with previous years.

In part, the report reads: "Vehicles for land transportation recorded 5.5 per cent. increase in employment over May. Food and kindred products 5.5 per cent.; iron and steel 2.5 per cent.; tobacco manufacture 2.5 per cent.; railroad repair shops 2.5 per cent.; metal and metal products other than iron and steel 2.5 per cent.; lumber and its manufacture 2.5 per cent.; miscellaneous 1.8 per cent.; chemicals and allied products 1.4 per cent.; textiles and their products 1.3 per cent.; paper and printing 1.3 per cent.; liquor and beverages 2 per cent.; leather and its kindred products .09 per cent.

"Decrease in employment was shown in stone, clay and glass products in June of only .85 per cent.

"Building activities are developing to such an extent that a shortage of skilled building craftsmen is becoming apparent in many sections of the country.

"The country is steadily but surely forging its way toward a period of industrial prosperity in which it is possible that the labor supply will not equal the demand. As contrasted with opinion six months ago, a note of optimism pervades practically every industry in every section of the country.

The Bureau's report for Virginia is as follows: "General—Industrial conditions throughout the State are improving. Textiles and leather goods show the greatest increase in employment. All other industries with the exception of leather goods reveal great improvement.

Richmond—The industrial improvement continues. Slight employment increases made in food and kindred products, iron and steel, lumber and kindred products, which are all showing a surplus of workers. Carpenters, millwrights, common labor and domestics. Surplus of clerical workers. Plants are sufficient to absorb surplus of workers in other industries.

Norfolk—There has been further improvement in the general industrial situation, with the exception of the textile industry which reports a slight decrease in employment. Nearly all skilled workers employed with a slight surplus of machine shop workers. A shortage of competent labor indicated. Employment of skilled workmen will be increased as work advances on the $5,000,000 West Terminal project, including the building of a grain elevator, piers and wharves. Several large contractors and a big municipal paving program under way.

Roanoke—Industrial situation practically normal with the exception of railroad shops and the steel works which are still closed down. Lumber and iron works are open, working full time with a large force. Plants are sufficient to absorb those released in other lines of employment. The textiles, iron and steel and metal products have added large numbers of workmen.

News—This report made before the annual workers strike. Employment is practically normal; supply equal to demand.

Lynchburg—The improvement in employment shown in food and kindred products, textiles, leather, paper and printing. Clearcut plant working full time with small force, with indication of improvement.

Senate In Fight On Soya Bean In Tariff Debate

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Failure of the Republican-agricultural-tariff bloc on a tie vote, 28 to 28, to win its fight for a rate of 1 1/2 cent a pound of soya beans and the approval, 51 to 2, of the existing emergency rates of three cents a pound on unshelled peanuts and four cents a pound on the shelled marked Senate consideration today of the tariff bill. The soya bean rate approved was four-tenths of one cent a pound, but Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, gave notice that he would again seek to have the higher rate adopted.

In rewriting the tariff, the finance committee majority cut the rates on unshelled peanuts to three-fourths of one cent a pound and on shelled peanuts to one and one-half cents a pound. Nine Democrats supported the higher rates, while six of them voted for the Ladd amendment to make the soya bean rate of one and one-half cents.

Democrats supporting the peanut rates were Ashurst, Broussard, Harris, Heflin, Kendrick, Ransdell, Sheppard, Swanson and Trammell. Those voting for the higher soya bean rate, were Ashurst, Broussard, Heflin, Kendrick, Ransdell and Sheppard.

Flaxseed oil 3 1/2 cents a pound; castor oil, 4 1/2 cents; rapeseed oil, six cents a gallon.

Eggs: In the shell, eight cents a dozen, an increase of 2 cents over the house rate; frozen or otherwise prepared, six cents a pound. House rate four cents; dried, 18 cents a pound. House rate 15 cents.

The soya bean debate developed a sharp passage between Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey, and Gooding of Idaho. Opposing the soya bean rate, Senator Frelinghuysen said this would work an injury to the farmers by cutting down exports of vegetable oils from this country and that although a staunch protectionist, he could not support a high duty when there was no evidence that the domestic demand could be supplied by American producers.

Senator Gooding replied that Senator Frelinghuysen was a protectionist affected adversely by manufacturing in his state and then he was against protection. Senator Frelinghuysen returned that such a declaration was "manifestly unfair" and that in taking the position he did he was defending the committee's action.

Senators Gooding and Ransdell, Democrat, Louisiana made pleas for higher protection for the soya bean, declaring that it was a fine fertilizer as well as a most valuable farm crop. Senator Ransdell said he believed soya bean production would be even more profitable than cotton, particularly in those sections where the weevil has been particularly active.

LONDON, July 10.—The British Legion has at last decided to admit ex-service women to membership on the same terms as men. Hitherto they have been debarred from becoming full members.

Attacking the committee action in lowering rates of peanuts, Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, said this was done for "small peanut politics," the purpose being to attempt to embarrass southern senators whose states produced peanuts and who are against the principle of protection as such. He declared that where a protective system was to prevail, with the agriculturists of the South forced to buy their necessities in a protected market, Senators were perfectly consistent in supporting duties on farm products in their states. Senator Walsh of Massachusetts and King of Utah, Democrats, made a general fight against the duties approved today, while defense was made by Chairman McCumber of the finance committee and other Republican senators.

Big Qualifying Rounds National Golf Tourney

GLENCOR, Ill., July 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—The big wheel of the qualifying rounds in the national open golf tournament turned one-third of its course today as 108 players from all parts of the world fought through 18 holes for a chance in the final Thursday and Friday, with only 27 reaching the goal.

The end of the day found all of the international and national stars shooting today within the coveted circle, although a few had narrow escapes, and a new record for two rounds of qualifying play made by Jack Hutchinson, Chicago pro, who held the British open championship last year. Jack turned in a card of 67-68-135, the lowest mark ever made in an American tournament. Mike Brady, of Detroit with 143, Jim Barnes, of Palham Manor, N. Y., present titleholder, with 144, Alie Mitchell, of England, with another 144, and Joe Kirkwood, the Australian champion, with 145, followed along behind Jack. The other qualifiers ranged up to 152. The low 24 were to qualify but they made it 27.

"Click," Evans of Chicago, who probably has held titles more often than any amateur in the world, came two strokes of failing to qualify when he was 44, followed along behind Jack. The other qualifiers ranged up to 152. The low 24 were to qualify but they made it 27.

Most of the morning scores were rather high because of a heavy rain last night. The rain, while making the course soggy at the start, left it in perfect shape for the rest of the day, and the golfers who had been used to the concrete like footways found trouble in judging distance when there was no roll on the ball.

In the afternoon a majority settled into their natural stride and the golfers paid by the several thousand spectators who paid an admission fee of $1—this being the first time that an admission fee has been charged—was of the type read about but seldom witnessed.

When Hutchinson went out in his morning round, he had only a small gallery, nearly everyone following the Barnes-Evans play. But when the news of his 67 spread around he found

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

His friends gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed McNeil's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense Allenrhru with the understanding that if the first bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.—adv.

Nothing stuck up about Rex. He looks as if he'd like to say, "Oh, that wasn't nothing," when humans fawn upon him for dragging his master, A. C. Smith, to safety when the latter was drowning in a lake at Tacoma, Wash.

immediately became the attraction, and, contrary to tradition, in the second round duplicated his wonderful morning play.

In this 26 holes Hutchinson hung up one eagle, nine birdies, twenty-one par holes and over par five times. He started out by topping a drive and then going into a trap for a six on the part four first. The rest of his morning round was just one perfect shot after another, none of his opponents but each a masterpiece.

In the afternoon the professional again started out with more than par for the first hole, taking a five when his massive pitch caught a sand trap. Then he settled down to pars and birdies and laid another 34 for the day.

In the thirty-second he sank a 20-foot putt for a birdie three and on the thirty-third he pitched a 125-yard shot six inches from the pin for another birdie 3. On the 35th, Jack's drive was under a tree and he could only take a three-quarters swing, but he sent the ball 200 yards to the green and got in four.

Coming up the home stretch with the crowd cheering every shot, Hutchinson started with a perfect 250 yard drive and then laid a 220 yard brassie 25 feet from the cup. As he stepped up to right for the putt, some one yelled, "Sink it, Jack, old boy."

"All right, sir," he certainly did that," came back in Jack's Scotch brogue, and he sent the ball curling along the side hill slope into the cup for an eagle 3.

Mike Brady, the Detroit shooter, who turned in a 143, was paired with Jack and he said afterwards that Jack's great work was such an incentive that he had to shoot well himself.

Jim Barnes, who is defending his title, played a brilliant game. It was not perfect play, for Jim was in trouble on nearly every hole, but his spectacular recoveries kept the fallery in thrills.

"Click," Evans, paired with Barnes shot a nice 73 in the morning, making the last nine in par 36. He had only a few bad spots, the worst being a missed 15 inch putt on the ninth hole.

Chick's collapse and recovery in the afternoon was perhaps the strangest exhibition ever given by a champion golfer. His only error was, "I just couldn't get 'em right for a while."

Par totals were few, for the course today was extremely different. The second group to attempt to qualify will go out tomorrow. Among these will play are Walter Hagen, of Detroit, present British open champion who will be paired with George Duncanson, tied for runner-up to him in the British open; Gene Sarazen of Pittsburgh, who shot a 65 in a practice round; Bobby Jones, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; Leo Diegel of New Orleans; Jesse Caldwell of Boston, national amateur champion; Fred Wright of Los Angeles and S. Davidson Herron of Chicago, former national amateur champion.

Only three amateurs qualified—Evans, Ira Couch, the 17-year-old boy wonder of Chicago and A. F. Baumgartner, Cincinnati. Included in the list of names and scores of the 27 players who qualified today from a field of 108 for the final in the national open tournament are the following:

Jack Hutchinson, Chicago, 135; Mike Brady, Detroit, 143; Jim Barnes, Palham Manor, N. Y., 144; Alie Mitchell, England, 144; William Greaves, Kansas City, Mo., 145; Joe Kirkwood, Australia, 145; Charles H. Hoffman, Palham Manor, N. Y., 147; J. E. Among the well known players who just failed to qualify were: Robert Gardner, of Chicago, former national amateur champion, 154, and Alex Smith, New London, Conn., pro, who has held several titles, 153.

AFRICAN CHIEFS INVADE PARIS WITH SWORDS AND MANY WIVES

PARIS, July 10.—Twenty-seven African chiefs, sovereigns of various French colonies of protectorates in the Sudan, Senegal, Gabon, Mauritania and the Ivory and Guinea coasts, arrived in Paris today. The huge black men were dressed in multi-colored silk costumes. Some of them carried umbrellas and all of them wore swords. Many of them had been decorated with the insignia and officers of the Legion of Honor for distinguished services on behalf of France during the war.

The chiefs presented a pitiful picture as they faced batteries of photographers at the Lyons station. Chief Balam Nola, conqueror of Togoland and Adige Akokhane, of Senegal, who were active in the equipment of their followers at the preparations for fitting them out for service in the European war, were most prominent. The chiefs were accompanied by their wives, each having from two to five.

All of the men were more than six feet tall, muscular and beautiful specimens of mankind, especially the younger among them, any of whom would be qualified to purchase, only to become a "black hope."

The chiefs ranged from neat, white-haired men to youths in their early twenties.

Lincoln Never Was Opposed To Prohibition Law

CHICAGO, July 10.—Denial that Abraham Lincoln had once declared himself as opposed to prohibition was made today by the Rev. Duncan C. Milner, associate minister of the Presbyterian church, a civil war veteran, and chaplain of the Local Legion.

In a statement intended to refute the claim of "certain wet organizations" that the "immortal Lincoln" had ever lent even a hint of approval to the liquor traffic, Rev. Milner, three nationally known men setting forth that an alleged quotation from Lincoln which was used in a local option campaign in Georgia in 1857 was an admitted fraud.

The affidavit, signed by the Rev. Sam Small, evangelist, Rev. Sam Jones, and Henry W. Grady, declares that "sometime after the campaign," Col. John B. Goodwin, who had been director of the anti-prohibition forces in said campaign, was told that he himself had composed the alleged words of Lincoln so as to secure the adhesion of the colored voters.

The alleged statement of Lincoln's views was first made in a circular widely broadcast in the campaign, and did much to defeat the local option measure by winning over the entire colored vote to the side of the "wet." Rev. Milner explained.

The words credited to Lincoln, but since admitted to be those of another were: "Prohibition will work great injury to the cause of temperance. It is a species of intemperance itself, for it goes beyond the bounds of reason in that it attempts to control man's appetite by legislation, and in making crime out of things that are not crimes."

"A prohibitory law strikes a blow at the very principle on which our government was founded. I have always been found laboring to protect the weaker classes from the stronger, and I can never give my consent to such a law as you propose to enact. Until my tongue is silent in death, I will continue to fight for the rights of man."

The quotation was headed "ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S PROCLAMATION" and was followed with this appeal: "Colored Voters: If it appeals to you to protect the liberty he has bestowed upon you. Will you go back on his advice? Look to your rights! Read! Act! Vote for the sale."

Rev. Milner declared that the alleged statement of Lincoln is being circulated today by organizations opposed to the eighteenth amendment, and appealed for a campaign to forever clear the name of the great emancipator of so foul a stigma.

The affidavit made public by Rev. Milner says in part: "That the Rev. Sam Jones, Henry W. Grady, this affiant, and many other speakers then openly denounced the purported words of Abraham Lincoln to be a flagrant forgery, a deliberate discovery of them in any recorded utterances of Lincoln, and offered a reward for proof of their genuineness, but no one produced any such proof."

"That some time after the excitement of the campaign had disappeared, this affiant, in conversation with Col. John B. Goodwin, who had been the director of the anti-prohibition forces in said campaign, was told by Col. Goodwin that he himself devised the circular in question, composed the alleged words of Lincoln so as to attract the adhesion of the colored voters and had done so because to win them was the forlorn hope of the 'wet,' the country at that time being under a prohibition law."

Grady, this affiant, and many other speakers then openly denounced the purported words of Abraham Lincoln to be a flagrant forgery, a deliberate discovery of them in any recorded utterances of Lincoln, and offered a reward for proof of their genuineness, but no one produced any such proof."

THE RENOMINATION OF SWANSON IS CERTAIN

(Winchester Star)

As the Senatorial primary approaches it becomes more and more apparent that the Democratic voters of Virginia will renominate the Senator from Virginia. His opponent, former Governor Davis, has assigned no sufficient reason to replace a satisfactory and effective representative for one without national legislative experience, and whose career as Governor does not give the promise of an especially useful service in the upper branch of Congress.

Admitting the claims made by the friends of Governor Davis, as to his record as Governor, not one single instance of constructive statesmanship has marked the four years he served in this high office. Not one single achievement stands out as a tribute to his ability and as a promise of a more useful service in the higher office to which he now aspires.

His chief claim for election lies in the statement that he has been the friend of the farmer.

What did he accomplish for the farmer in his four years as Governor of Virginia? His record, barren of achievement, is especially deficient in the one field that he has claimed a particularly useful service.

If one definite and concrete accomplishment was the establishment of two state lime grinding plants. The books of the auditor will show that at sessions of the General Assembly appropriations have been made to make up deficits in the operation of these plants and what small saving the farmers have enjoyed in purchasing limestone from these plants has been more than offset by the deplorable appropriations from the State Treasury.

When the 1920 reassessment of real estate was made Governor Davis called all the land assessors to Richmond and instructed them to assess real estate at fair market value, although the value of all lands was then greatly inflated. If this command had been obeyed the farmers of Virginia would have been virtually bankrupted by increased taxes.

Governor Davis vetoed last winter's recommendation of the Highway Department for the increase in the appropriation for the farm-to-market roads.

The budget shows that Governor Davis refused to approve of this in-

CHINESE START FEUD IN SONORA

(Associated Press)

MEXICO, OFFICIAL, July 10.—Chinese factions in the state of Sonora have been engaged in a sanguinary warfare for several months, and so serious is the situation they have created that a petition has been sent the federal government to order the immediate removal of the leaders of the two principal Asiatic factions.

The Chinese National League Sonora has been in odds for several years with the members of Chinese forces. The state and federal governments are charged to the activities of the two organizations. State officials believe that a wholesale depredation of properties will clear the atmosphere.

As a faithful and tried power relative to the people of Sonora will continue to live in peace, and the value of the Seventh District will justify the balance of Virginia in paying the great tribute of a renomination by an overwhelming majority.

Senator Swanson's long career in public life as a Congressman, as Governor, and as United States senator, gives evidence of his adherence to the principles he considers right. He has never been elected on one platform, and then changed front for another expediency.

Davis was elected Governor on a two platform and was the first to rest of the day, and by promise of the support of more than a million votes, than now exists he has obtained the support of the president of the W. C. T. U., who is a leading Republican of London county.

In view of his efforts to embrace the enforcement of prohibition with Governor, his president position is very open to variance with the public record and is charged to the Senate by the performance may vary as much with his promises now.

15-YEAR-OLD GIRL AVENGES DEATH OF SLAIN FATHER

MEXICO CITY, July 10.—(By The Associated Press)—Maria Del Pilar Moreno, a 15-year-old girl, today avenged the death of her father, Jesus Z. Moreno, editor of El Heraldo de Mexico, who was shot and killed last May by Deputy Francisco Tejeda Llorca, after a quarrel.

Maria waited before Tejeda Llorca's home and as he stepped from the doorway fired four times at a few distance. All the bullets took effect and death was instantaneous.

The child, who since her father's death has been almost deranged with grief, calmly surrendered to the police. She expressed no regrets, saying she swore vengeance over her father's body and now that his death had been avenged she was prepared to pay the penalty.

A sensation was caused in Mexico City by the killing of Editor Moreno by Deputy Tejeda Llorca, which took place at the entrance to the interior department building. The motive for the killing was believed to have been the editor's attacks in the columns of his newspaper on what he called political evils.

Deputy Llorca was an uncle of Adolfo Tejeda's governor of Vera Cruz, and it was said that his recent death was directed more against Moreno's criticism of the state government than against any personal attacks.

CLERKS TO STRIKE ON

NORFOLK AND WESTERN

ROANOKE, Va., July 10.—Sanction to call a general strike of the members of the brotherhood of railway clerks, station employees and freight handlers on the Norfolk and Western railway was given last night by Grand President H. C. Fitzgerald, in a telegram to Richard P. Dea, grand vice president, who is in Roanoke conducting an investigation relative to the walkout of about 150 clerks here July 2 and 3.

C. B. Lane, general chairman of the organization on the Norfolk and Western railway, issued a strike order effective Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Union officials here claim that the clerks have a membership of 1,500 over the Norfolk and Western railway. Just how many will walk out in compliance if the order issued by Mr. Lane could not be learned tonight at union headquarters.

A letter in part to all members of the organization forwarded by C. B. Lane, general chairman tonight follows:

"The votes of the membership of this brotherhood on the Norfolk and Western system with reference to the wage controversy and other conditions have been counted and a constitutional majority as provided for in section 14 of the protective laws, has been received.

"You are therefore instructed, in accordance with section 14 of the protective laws of this brotherhood to withdraw from the service of the Norfolk and Western railway company at 10 a. m. Tuesday, July 11, 1932.

"You will arrange your committees for picketing, which must be peaceably done, and warn the membership against any disorderly conduct or interference with the railway company's property and also warn them against returning to work or to the company's property for any purpose whatsoever, until a satisfactory settlement of this controversy has been made."

American Food and Kitchens Restore Smiles and Contentment to Russian Mothers and Babies

This is a Russian baby living today, and rapidly reaching ruddy health, by the grace of American food distributed by the American Relief Administration, of which Herbert Hoover is chairman.

This Russian mother is supremely happy in the health of her little boy, for no longer must she see him waste under her eyes because of lack of food. America has changed that. American bread, rice, cocoa and other supplies for the baby, and American corn, purchased under the $20,000,000 government appropriation for adults, has put an end to the worst famine in history.

Three million of these children are fed in 11,000 A. R. A. kitchens, located all over Russia, while American gift corn is being distributed to 5,000,000 adults, giving them the strength to till their fields and plant American seed that is necessary to give them a harvest.

Col. William N. Haskell, director for Russia of the American Relief Administration, reports that the famine situation is well under control.

Government Plan Of Settlement Of The Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Harding today placed before leaders of employers of the anthracite and unionized bituminous mine fields a government plan for settling the coal strike. It called for immediate resumption of work by miners now out, at wage rates of March 31 last, for fixing of permanent wage levels by arbitration, and for an investigation to recommend solutions of permanent problems in the coal industry.

All representatives of the groups concerned had tonight delayed definite answers to the proposal, although union officials informed the president they had no power to give acceptance or refusal, but would summon the general policy committee of the United Mine Workers of America here Saturday to consider the matter.

A day of conferences at the White House and at other offices with Secretaries Hoover, Fall, Davis and Attorney General Daugherty participating, was taken to bring matters to this stage.

Alfred M. Ogle, chairman of the bituminous operators group, indicated that his associates considered an arbitration plan they had offered last week, for district settlements, "the best and fairest way" to get the mines open, but John L. Lewis, president of the union, classed this as obsolete in the light of the president's proposals. Anthracite operators, although their committee was three times at the White House, maintained silence.

Both bituminous and anthracite sections of the general conference of the coal industry had indicated they would today before President Harding's plan, "concerned with coal production sufficient to meet the industrial and transportation requirements of the country," he said, "desired to have production resumed."

He proposed that mine workers should return on the old wage scale, and that a commission of five representatives of the public, three of the miners, and three of the operators, should fix a new wage scale to be in effect until March 1, 1933. If its deliberations should not result in a scale by August 10, the president further suggested that the wage levels at the time work was stopped should continue until a new scale was ready.

In addition, the commission proposed, the president said, should have the power to recommend a cut in wages.

He enjoined all participants to give the proposal consideration in separate conferences, and this was done immediately. The miners' formulated their temporary answer, a letter explaining that the national officers and district presidents called into the meeting were "without the authority to render a definite judgment upon your several suggestions and are in no manner authorized to bind the members of the United Mine Workers of America with respect to our recommendations."

President Lewis of the union, said the officers would not discuss the recommendations they might make to the full policy committee, which has 124 members, but explained that it had full power to act.

Chairman Ogle, after various deliberations with his associates, the bituminous operators, declared that the general arbitration plan had not been vetoed upon and that an answer to the president might be delayed.

Rockefeller, Jr., Tells How He Trains
Children To Manage Millions

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., said he should do the wholesome things his father had to do in order to be successful. He will teach him what qualities made his father successful. "I don't know if I did not have that sort of a chance," he said, "I would have been a failure."

INTIMATE INTERVIEW WITH
JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.

Every parent and every child will be interested in the story of how John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has trained his children to manage millions. The story is told in a way that is both interesting and instructive. It is a story of a father who has given his children a sound financial education, and of a son who has followed in his father's footsteps.
